CSGGE Events Coming Soon

with Shiori Itō

AsiaLENS Series: Black Box
Diaries Screening and Q&A

Date: Monday, October 20th

Time: 4 pm - 6:30 pm

Location: Spurlock Museum, Knight Auditorium

600 S. Gregory St, Urbana, IL

The Department of East Asian Languages & Cultures and the Center for East Asian & Pacific Studies announce a free screening of the film "Black Box Diaries." The film screening will be followed by an in-person Q&A with the filmmaker Shiori Itō, an Oscar and BAFTA nominated documentary filmmaker, journalist, writer, and co-founder of Hanashi Films. Additionally, Itō has been named one of TIME magazines 100 most Influential People in 2020. The Q&A will be moderated by Belinda Qian He, EALC/Cinema Studies Faculty and Yuhua Zhang, EALC PhD student.

About the film: Black Box Diaries traces Itō's courageous investigation of her own sexual assault, an improbable attempt to prosecute a high-profile offender that became a landmark case in Japan. Structured with the urgency of a thriller, the film weaves together audio recordings, vérité observation, first-person video clips, and an assembled case file—an "archive of her own"—to reveal the black boxes and blind spots in Japan's judicial and social systems. Her practice bridges investigative reporting with the craft of cinema—mobilizing archival research, counter-forensic methods, and sustained fieldwork to turn personal evidence-gathering into pressingly needed public testimony. Premiering at the 2024 Sundance Film Festival and now released worldwide, the film has been nominated for an Academy Award and a BAFTA, received a Peabody Award, and garnered more than twenty international prizes, with screenings in over fifty countries. Please, click here for more information.

The film run time is 102 minutes.

The Department of East Asian Languages & Cultures and the Center for East Asian & Pacific Studies

MASTERS IN GLOBAL STUDIES INFORMATION SESSION

Join the MSGS Academic Coordinator for an informational session about the new, now-enrolling, Masters in Global Studies Program (MSGSP). Hear from Andy about details of the programs + the different tracks, unlimited opportunities, and see if this new program is the right fit for you! There will be plenty of time at the end for Q&A.

This degree prepares students for leadership in international and domestic careers in non-governmental organizations (NGOs), government, business, and transnational organizations. Combining interdisciplinary coursework with domestic and international practicum opportunities will prepare graduates to meet the intellectual and practical challenges facing global governance and civil society organizations.

Andrew Guth is the Academic Program Coordinator for the Center of Global Studies (CGS), where he helped establish, lectures in, and is administrator of the MS in Global Studies Program (MSGSP). Prior to the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, Dr. Guth worked in China for ten years, the Philippines for another three years, and worked and traveled throughout Southeast Asia for twenty years. He was a consultant for the United Nations, OECD, Transparency International, Fortune 500 companies, and others; worked at the Terrorism, Transnational Crime and Corruption Center (TraCCC) in Arlington, VA; and was a Peace Corps Volunteer in the Philippines.

How to apply: Send the following items in one single PDF to Dr. Maria Alejandra Garcia at mariaag@illinois.edu before October 20th, 2025, 11:59 p.m. CT: 1) one-page cover letter; 2) CV (including GPA); 3) Name and contact information (email) of three references; 4) one writing example (link or PDF). Use the subject line: PhD Student Application. If selected as a top candidate, Dr. Maria Alejandra Garcia will recommend you apply to the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Sciences, and you will need to be ready to submit the required documentation by December 15, 2025.

Spring 2026 GRID Elective Course

Gender Relations in International Development, WGGP 581

Meets 01/20/26 - 05/06/26

Thursday, 2:00 pm - 4:50 pm

Location: 131 English Building

608 South Wright St, Urbana, IL

CRN: 64395

Course description: Students in this course acquire the theoretical and empirical skills required for understanding, evaluating, and critiquing development programs and policies. The core focus is on the gendered dimensions of such programs and policies.

Theoretical skills are acquired through comparative analyses of competing models of development such as the capability approach, dependency theory, and neo-liberal theory. Empirical skills are built by critically evaluating national and international programs and policies related to education, health, nutrition, and agriculture as well as access to economic resources and the means of production. This course will be led by Professor Fogelman, C.

SP26 NEW COURSE Gen Ed Lit & Arts CLCV 120

MODERN GREEK AND GREEK AMERICAN CULTURE

A POSTCOLONIAL PERSPECTIVE

MONDAY / WEDNESDAY
3:00 - 4:20 PM

Prof. Hadjipolycarpou

Gen Ed Lit and Arts Announces Modern Greek and Greek American Culture: A Post Colonial Perspective CLVC 120

Course Description: This course examines the cultural, historical, and social production of modern Greek and Greek American identity through a postcolonial lens. Students will explore Greece's complex positioning as both a "cradle of Western civilization" and a semi-peripheral nation shaped by empire, colonial legacies, and global power structures. The course traces the formation of Greek national identity, folklore, language, literature, music, and religious practices, as well as the experiences of Greek diasporic communities in the United States.

Through engagement with postcolonial theory (Said, Bhabha, Fanon, Spivak, Todorova) alongside Greek Studies scholarship (Hamilakis, Herzfeld, Leontis), students will critically analyze cultural texts—including literature, film, music, and festivals—to understand how identity, memory, and heritage are constructed, contested, and commodified. The course emphasizes the interplay between local, national, and transnational contexts, encouraging students to consider how Greece and its diaspora negotiate race, gender, class, and global hierarchies. This course will be led by Professor Hadjipolycarpou and will be held every Monday and Wednesday from 3:00 - 4:20 pm!
